

1 PURPOSE OF THIS GRANT

Flanders Literature awards grants to foreign language publishers to facilitate the publication abroad of high-quality fiction, creative nonfiction, and literature for children and young adults, written by Dutch-speaking Belgian authors and originally published by a Dutch or Flemish professional publishing house. The quality of a translation is the key to the success of a translated book. This is why Flanders Literature encourages publishers to work with professional literary translators and emphasises the importance of high-quality translations.

2 WHICH PUBLICATIONS QUALIFY?

The following genres qualify for support: fiction, creative nonfiction, and literature for children and young adults. The publication itself must be intended for a general audience. The following are excluded:

- scientific, academic and educational works;
- popular fiction and nonfiction;
- purely investigative journalism;
- publications which will not be generally available;
- self-published texts;
- special or bibliophile editions with limited availability;
- publications with a limited print run;
- re-editions of existing translations. However, revisions of existing translations of Flemish classics may qualify. In that case, a representative translated excerpt, demonstrating the necessity and quality of said revision, should be enclosed with the application.

Publications that meet the above requirements, but in respect of which an advance payment for royalties in excess of 25,000 euro has been paid, are excluded from financial support from Flanders Literature.

3 FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Foreign language publishers can apply for financial assistance to cover up to 60% of the translator's fee. The amount of the grant is based on the translator's fee, as specified in the contract between the foreign language publisher and the translator. Flanders Literature expects publishers to remunerate translators fairly and adequately. When calculating the amount of the grant, Flanders Literature takes into account the customary rates for translation in the country in question.

Publishers may apply for grants for a maximum of four books by the same author. The grant will amount to up to 60% of the translator's fee for the first two books, up to 50% of the translator's fee for the third book, and up to 40% of the translator's fee for the fourth book by the same author.

Publishers from economically weaker countries¹ can be awarded a grant that covers up to 80% of the translator's fee of the first two books, up to 70% of the translator's fee for the third book, and up to 60% of the translator's fee for the fourth book by the same author.

This financial support is granted in accordance with the Commission Regulation (EC) No 1998/2006 of 15 December 2006 on the application of Articles 87 and 88 of the Treaty to de minimis aid (OJ L379 of 28 December 2006). Publishers who receive translation or production grants will therefore be required to sign a declaration letter confirming that the total amount of de minimis aid granted to them over a period of three financial years does not exceed 200,000 euros.

Flanders Literature has a list of literary classics that qualify for a 100% grant. Publishers can ask the Flanders Literature team to check if a specific title is on that list. If this is the case, the grant will amount to up to 100% of the translator's fee for the first two books, up to 75% of the translator's fee for the third book, and up to 60% of the translator's fee for the fourth book by the same author.

In the case of translations of stories, literary excerpts, and eligible articles published in foreign literary or cultural periodicals, the grant will amount to up to 100% of the translator's fee. Editorial costs, advances on royalties, and printing costs are not granted.

The maximum amount of a translation grant is 8,000 euro.

4 CRITERIA

When evaluating a project, Flanders Literature considers:

- the literary quality of the original book: the representative nature and relevance of the title in question to the image of literary work by Flemish authors. Flanders Literature may ask its specialist advisory committee to assess the literary quality of the original book. That committee may choose to consult other experts;
- the status of the publisher: catalogue, speciality, distribution and marketing efforts, special interest in translation, editorial accuracy, etc.;
- the translator's contract: professional contract and correct remuneration for the translation, respecting copyright laws;
- the quality of the translator: previous projects supported by Flanders Literature or the Dutch Foundation for Literature, other completed projects and experience in translating from the Dutch language in this particular genre;
- the quality of the translation: the final translation for which the grant is requested must be faithful to the original text, respecting style, spirit and content;
- the degree to which the publication contributes to the promotion of Flemish literature in the country and language area of the intended publication.

5 APPLICATION PROCEDURE

□ DEADLINE

Applications may be submitted throughout the year, and must be received at least three months before the printing of the book. Every effort is made to process all applications within two months, provided the submitted information is complete.

□ DOSSIER

In order to evaluate an application, we require the following documents:

- a copy of the application form;
- a copy of the contract between the publishing company and the owner of the Dutch-language rights, signed by all parties;
- a copy of the contract between the publishing company and the translator, signed by all parties;
- only in case of a first application: a recent catalogue of the company's publications (paper or digital).

If the translator is not accredited by Flanders Literature or the Dutch Foundation for Literature, please also submit:

- a representative translated and edited excerpt (around 10 A4 pages of the final version);
- a copy of the translator's curriculum vitae.

Based on this information, at least two experts will assess the translation and issue a recommendation on the quality of the translation to Flanders Literature. The assessors will be native speakers of the target language, have a thorough knowledge of the Dutch language, and will generally be an experienced translator and/or linguist.

If the application is incomplete, the applicant will be informed. The applicant will then be given two weeks to provide the missing documentation.

❑ DECISION AND PAYMENT

Based on the translator's fee stated in the translator's contract, a provisional amount for the grant will be established and the applicants will be informed.

The final amount of the grant shall never exceed the provisional amount. This final amount will be established and paid after Flanders Literature has received:

- a low-resolution pdf file of the translated book by email;
- five hard copies of the translated book. If Flanders Literature would like to receive more copies, this will be stated in the official confirmation letter. The requested copies must have been received by Flanders Literature within six months of the book's publication;
- a copy of the publisher's bank statement that proves the payment to the translator has been made as indicated in the contract between the publisher and the translator. The total amount of the grant will be reduced proportionally if the fee paid to the translator is less than stated in the contract.

❑ CONDITIONS

Financial support is granted on the condition that the publisher agrees to state in the book that publication was made possible (or aided) by a grant from Flanders Literature. It is therefore essential to apply in good time.

The Flanders Literature logo and the following acknowledgement should be printed in the book: This book was published with the support of Flanders Literature (www.flandersliterature.be). The correct logo (in colour and B&W) can be found at the bottom of each page on our website.

If the publisher receives further grants or financial contributions from third parties for the same project, Flanders Literature must be informed of this. The Flanders Literature grant will not be paid if the publisher is already receiving a grant for the same costs from another body.

Flanders Literature expects the publisher to be strongly committed to the translated text. Flanders Literature also expects the publisher to make every effort with regard to the editing of the publication and its marketing, promotion and distribution to bookshops, libraries and relevant media. The translated edition must be distributed nationally through recognised general book-trade channels. A publication that has been awarded a grant by Flanders Literature must be available for purchase for at least one year without being sold at bargain prices in discount shops.

The publisher must inform Flanders Literature without delay if the project is modified (e.g. publication date or print run).
